

A Universe Reversed

Sometimes we lead in reverse chasing outcomes
the visible
the measurable

Detached from the source we dry out.
We row against the current instead of letting the river carry us.
Do you feel the flow through your bones?

A deep power remains,
an untapped well
hidden in plain sight:

a moment of stillness
a spark of inspiration
a true connection
the humility to listen
the courage to quiet the ego in the fight for justice, beyond indifference

Let it flow again—
into your presence
your meetings
your leadership

So ask yourself:
Is power flowing through you or are you leading in a universe reversed?
